PMG video update — special edition

Postmaster General Megan Brennan has released a video message to update employees on the coronavirus outbreak and the Postal Service's response.

In the video, the P.M.G. explains that the organization is regularly sharing guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

This includes listing the actions that people can take to reduce the chances of getting the virus, which is also known as COVID-19 ("co vid nineteen").

Additionally, she discusses the importance of paying attention to the Postal Service's communications on this topic.

Let's watch the video now.
